DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

CONSTITUTION,
HON. JNO. A. SWOPE, Gettysburg.
JURY COMMISSIONER,
GEORGE W. SELBY, Conewago twp.
DIRECTOR OF THE POOL,
HENRY DEARDORFF of Franklin.

The Russian minister at London declares openly that Russia must have Herat—which means Herat and beyond, but how far democracy or our must decide. Russia has evidently determined to make an attempt at extending her dominions in order to find homes and a market for her expanding population. If people cannot make a living in her colder regions, most of them as hopelessly as Siberia, the population or probably the conqueror, outlet seems to be in the direction of India. As it looks to us, England must soon fight to retain her posts in the East, and the struggle may last, with varying activity and exhaustion, for scores of years. Public interest is already pointing in that direction.

ONLY two ex-Presidents remain—Hayes and Arthur—one getting his seat by fraud and the other by the assassination of Garfield.

It seems that Mexico don't want to sell to us, and it is certain that we don't need her almost worthless northern possessions. We have a chance to grow people a while. If ever erewhile we look about, as Russia is now doing. This is a great, a sprawling nation, and will provide room whenever necessary, but the day is a long way off.

JAMES G. BLAINE has written a letter of congratulation to John S. Wise upon his nomination as the Republican candidate for Governor of Virginia. An allusion to Wise's aristocratic descent is particularly gushing. But whilst Blaine is thus trying to manufacture votes in the next National Convention out of the peculiar politics of Virginia, is he not running the risk of losing support in the stalwart States of the north? The latter have not forgotten that John S. Wise's father hung John Brown, and that the Wises were among the most bitter and unrelenting rebels in the whole south. Blaine's letter to Wise will prove pleasant reading to Logan and his friends.

The country needs a navy, but John Ross don't know how to build one. Withdrawn from him the dishonest favoritism of a national administration and he is nowhere. It is well the test has been made. Somebody else can be found that will fulfill contracts and meet public expectation. We must have a navy, and nothing but a good one. The Democratic administration will see that it is built.

CART J. K. DOORER, editor and proprietor of the Union-Leader, has been appointed Postmaster at Wilkesbarre. He is an accomplished and forcible editor, and will make an efficient and satisfactory Postmaster. Whilst we commend our worthy editor, brother in his deserved good luck, the people of that large and flourishing city insist that they have secured the man to suit them. Such appointments always win general commendation.

IS it not significant that the average Republican newspaper feels it necessary to announce its support of Quay? There must be some doubt about the pillar after all.

The tariff is the same now that it has been for years—just as the Republicans made it. If tariffs are to be blamed for hard times, the Republicans must be held responsible for the present state of things. Congress can only execute the laws of the land. The Republican Senate keeps clear scrutiny over all his acts. The present tariff, remember, is of Republican manufacture.

JOHN ROACH "burst" as soon as he got to dealing with an administration that demands honest work for honest money. He must have had the naval purse strings in his own hands before. Another commentary upon the disreputable practices of a Republican administration of the navy department.

The Democrats of York county will hold their convention on the 4th of August. The York Age says:

As regards Dr. Swope, the convention must be held at York, but the convention is to be held at Lancaster under the contract for the new cruisers, in order to endorse the choice of Adams as expressed by their County Convention, and allow the Doctor to select his own convention, that a convention is the only just, honorable way.

WITHIN four weeks John Ronch claimed that he was worth over two millions of dollars and now appears helpless. He evidently wants to figure a majority.

JOHN ROACH received all but the last payment on the Dolphine, and for that he has the ship itself; and on the Chicago and Atlanta the Republican Secretary Chandler was careful to pay him little of the ten installments before he went out of office, thus paying him a shrewd. Why did Ronch break?

W. W. H. DAVIS calls as a likely story that he discovered three hundred Union soldiers who were to be sold in the office when he took charge, and the three clerks sent adults were young Republicans buried in their tents when the war closed.

THE SOUTH PENNSYLVANIA.—It is declared with much positiveness that Vanderbilt and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have come to terms—that the latter is to get the South Penn, at what has been spent up, (about $50,000,) and will stop the work; and that in return Vanderbilt is to get the West Shore and thus help his New York Central, and have less competition on the part of the Pennsylvania. The Reading Company fears it is all true; and so, if ever, of their projects must be delayed.

Just So.—The New York Sun, in an article on the nomination of M. S. Quay for State Treasurer by the Republicans of Pennsylvania, says: "It is a bold experiment, and will be watched with interest throughout the country. It is a good deal if Tweed had suddenly arrived, and were running for Mayor of New York."

HERE'S A BRICK!—Ex-Postmaster General Hutton says in his newspaper: "A Republican who has succeeded in gaining a prominent and lucrative position under his own party is entitled to little respect when he goes about whining to be kept in under an administration he opposed, and which, politically, he does not believe in—if he is a man of principle. When a man degenerates into a brat, he should be scraped off."

THE Reading Company refuses to join other companies in restricting coal mining during August, and will work full time. Sound to sense.

REPUBLICAN postmasters have been going at a quicker pace within a week past. The daily average has been ten first-class and 100 fourth-class postmasters.

DEATH OF EX-PRESIDENT GRANT.

The Long Struggle with Disease Ends at 80th Anniversary of His Birth.

General ULYSSES S. Grant died at Mt. McGregor, near Saratoga, N. Y., on Thursday morning, at eight minutes past eight o'clock, in the presence of his whole family, after an illness extending over the past year. The news was received everywhere with profound sorrow. A proclamation was issued by President Cleveland announcing the sad event; appropriate action was taken by State and national governments, and all parts of the country there were public and private manifestations of regard and expression of sentiment in sympathy with the melancholy character of the occasion. In Gettysburg the bells of public buildings were tolled and flags draped in black.

Action of Presidents Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—President Cleveland telephoned the following to Mrs. Grant:

"Accept this expression of my heart-felt sympathy in the loss of your great and good son, and may your sorrow which will kindly comfort the depths of the sorrow which is yours above, and which only the pity of God can heal."

The following proclamation was afterward issued by the President:

"The President of the United States has issued a proclamation, on the death of General Grant, to the effect that the nation is in mourning for the great man, and that the public should observe a day of mourning in his honor.

"In making this announcement to the people of the United States the President has done what he could do in the public loss of a great military leader who was in the hour of victory magnanimous; and did not seem to be interested in the welfare of his following countrymen.

"A forcious bulldog attacked the three-month-old child of Mrs. Beling, youngest daughter of Queen Victoria, to Prince Henry of Battenberg, took place on Thursday at St. Mildred's Church, Whitchurch.

"Six hundred and sixteen children under 5 years of age died in New York last week. Three hundred and ninety-five of these deaths resulted from influenza.

"Lieutenant J. S. Mathew's Lutheran congregation has granted a general vacation to its pastor, Rev. J. C. Kolter. Its duration is six weeks. It is not Cape May.—The sound of the explosion of the powder mill at Spring Grove, on the 22d last, was heard distinctly in Hanover. Some persons, favorably situated, saw the column of smoke projected skyward by the explosion.—As soon as the telegram announced the death of General Grant all the church bells in the town were tolled.—The Donegalite primary election will be held in this borough at Round-Top Park.

"Mr. Oliver Lodge, of Spring Grove, took place on Thursday at St. Mildred's Church, Whitchurch.

"There has been a terrific storm at Puerto Cabello, in Italy. Thirteen persons were killed and twenty-two injured by lightning.

"A forcious bulldog attacked the three-month-old child of Mrs. Beling, youngest daughter of Queen Victoria, to Prince Henry of Battenberg, took place on Thursday at St. Mildred's Church, Whitchurch.

"The wife of Abe Densor, a wealthy and eccentric German farmer, near Bloomsburg, Ill., sued him for divorce and enjoined him from disposing of his property. Sunday night week he drove his stock, including horses worth $2,000, into his barn and burned it. It is believed he probably perished in the flames.

"George's orchards now hold the best crop of apples, pears, peaches and plums in twenty years.

"The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher has expressed the belief in sudden death as the preferable way of departing from the world.

"The wife of a Virginian Democrat having been blessed with triplets, the proud father, who is a Jacksonian from Albany, buck, named them Cleveland, Hendricks and Reform. Democracy is not likely to die out in that family.

SHORT AND SHARP.

The number of sunstrokes reported on Wednesday in New York were about 50, of which 10 proved fatal.

"Hon. Almon S. Hart is going to Europe to study English restrictions against American cattle.

The Town Law requires that females are to receive as much as male teachers for the same service.

"Cholera is still raging in Spain.

"The proslavery State convention for the nomination of a candidate for Treasurer will meet in Harrisburg, on August 25.

"Rev. Dr. Samuel Irene Prime, for 45 years editor of the N. Y. Tribune, a well known Presbyterian church pastor, and author of a number of books, died at Manchester, Vt., Saturday, aged 78 years.

"General Sheridan has organized an Indian police force, composed of 400 young Cheyennes. It is said that the general attributes the disaffection among the Indians chiefly to the cattle leases.

"The marriage of Princess Beatrice, youngest daughter of Queen Victoria, to Prince Henry of Battenberg, took place on Thursday at St. Mildred's Church, Whitchurch.

"Six hundred and sixteen children under 5 years of age died in New York last week. Three hundred and ninety-five of these deaths resulted from influenza.
